

Mary Godolphin	Robinson Crusoe in Words of One Syllable By Mary Godolphin (1781-1864) This book is a fictional autobiography of the title character — a castaway who spends 28 years on a remote tropical island near Trinidad, encountering cannibals, captives, and mutineers before being rescued. You know the story; but do you know the story told in words of one syllable? Here Lucy Aikin, under the pen name of Mary Godolphin, retells Daniel Defoe's famous tale of danger and solitude and resourcefulness. Because of the simpler words and sentences this might be a good book for younger listeners or for listeners whose first language is not English. (Summary by Phil Chenevert) Read by David Biro, Darren Manes, tlovell, & RLC. Total running time: 2:31:09. Dedicated Proof-Listener: Charlotte Duckett. Book Coordinator, Meta-Coordinator, & Cataloging: Phil Chenevert. This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover image taken from the edition published by McLoughlin Brothers, Publishers (1869). Copyright expired in US, Canada, EU, and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Janette Brown. This design is in the public domain.	Robinson Crusoe in Words of One Syllable Mary Godolphin
----------------	--	--